Un-BELIEVE-able

With everything from JBrand jeans to Two's Company's home accessories, be~Lie~ve (formerly Opam Breastcare Boutique) will have you walking out anything but empty-handed. Kimberly Powell began her quaint boutique as a post-mastectomy store for women with breast cancer diagnosis and has evolved it into a fully comprehensive breastcare boutique catering strictly to women. Sorry guys, Powell created a most feminine haven in striking opposition to the common medical environment. Pocketed pajamas and tank tops, Nite Sweatz Pajamas and breast-forming bras are just a few unique products. As an added plus, you can browse the latest fall wear from Abi Ferrin or snatch up one of Beth Orduna's exclusive jeweled creations. Seeing is believing!
